Verbs with to - teachers talk to students

We assigned¹ the tasks randomly to the experimental group and the control group to see how the subjects would react to the different problems. Malaria poses a major health risk to people who are exposed to infection where malaria is common. In 1997, 13% of deaths among children were attributed to² malaria in one area in Zaire.

OK, let's turn to the more difficult cases that I mentioned earlier. How should a doctor respond to a patient who doesn't consent to treatment when it seems to be essential?

When you're planning a questionnaire, you should always attend to³ design issues such as the number of questions and how clear they are.

We can't really say that an increase in inflation of two per cent amounts to⁴ an economic crisis, and I refer here to some recent stories in the media which are highly exaggerated and which can be traced to⁵ a deep misunderstanding of how inflation operates.

¹ give a particular job or piece of work to someone ² say or think that something is the result of something (often used in passive) ³ deal with, give one's attention to ⁴ be the same as something, or have the same effect as something ⁵ discover the origin of something by examining how it has developed (often used in passive)

Other prepositions

	verbs	examples
with	associate, provide, couple, equip	Note: In the active voice, as in the first example, this group of verbs follows the pattern verb + object + preposition + complement. Note also that these verbs are often used in the passive, as in the second example. We try to equip our laboratories with the latest technology. Heart disease is often associated with unhealthy life styles.
from	depart, benefit, emerge, exclude	In this book, Herne departs from his earlier theory. [takes a different view] Some of the data were excluded from the final analysis.
of	write, speak, convince, dispose	Abuka writes/speaks of the early years of industrial development. [both are rather formal] We must convince people of the need for water conservation.
for	account, search, call, argue	Lung cancer accounted for 20% of deaths in men. [formed the total of] Hopper (1987) argues for a new approach to English grammar. [opposite: argue against]

The verbs emphasise and stress are used without any preposition (NOT on). The study emphasises/stresses the need for more controlled experiments to back up the conclusions. Divide is followed by into (NOT divide in). The subjects were divided into three groups.
